

Immediate need Sandbox Server

- The An Island team needed a fully operational sandbox server for a project requirement of an overseas client.
- The An Island team would be arriving Monday morning at the customer's site for the start of the project.
- The local staff begins the sandbox server configuration Friday at noon and was completed Sunday at 5 pm, while the An Island support team traveled to the customer's project location.
- Monday morning we are ready to go.
- Just another example of the can do attitude of the An Island employees.

Thanks guys for a job well done and on time.
